name

Aim: How do HTML forms work?

`select`

html tag to represent drop-down lists.

By itself, the select tag is not useful, it should contain `option` elements.

Example:

```
<select name="name">
  <option value="v0">Option 0</option>
  <option value="v1">Option 1</option>
 </select>
```

similar to the `input` tag, data from the `select` tag will have the `name` set in `select` and the `value` from the active option value.

Aim: How do HTML forms work?